DEBT TAKES BIG SLICE OF BUDGET

Street-Cleaning Gets Four Times as Much as City Appropriates for Public Health.

City Accountant Coffer's graphic presentation of how the city of Richmond spends every dollar paid into the treasury in the form of taxes is reproduced in diagram form in this paper. The complete circumference of the outer large circle represents the budget for the current year, and the areas subdivided by the various segments the relative proportion of the total budget consumed by separate municipal activities and interests.

The drawing was prepared by Mr. Coffer on the basis of the expenditures of budget of 1914. Blueprints of the drawing will be placed on permanent display to-day in the financial division of the municipal section in the Manuscript Exhibit, which is designed to present in an interesting and graphic manner to the citizens who visit the exhibit the purposes to which the taxpayer's dollar is devoted and their relative importance.

Debt Cuts Big Slice.
It is seen at first glance that the city debt cuts the biggest slice from the municipal pie. A total of $908,000, or 20 per cent of the total budget, was this year appropriated for this item. The item is subdivided into $488,591.17, interest on outstanding bonds, and $419,408.83, for the redemption of bonds as they fall due.

Next in point of importance is the appropriation of $615,404, or 17.4 per cent of the total revenue, to the municipal enterprises, the Gas, Electric and Water Works, and cemeteries and markets. Education and recreation, embracing schools, parks, grounds, playgrounds and similar enterprises, took this year 15.83 per cent of the total appropriations, or, expressed in gross, $561,876.02.

Highways and sewers, the great public improvement item, took $517,397.77 from the city treasury, or 14.7 per cent of all the money appropriated by the current budget. Close behind these come the department of public safety, which took $473,834.90 for the purpose, or 13.33 cents out of each dollar paid by the people in taxes.

Street Cleaning Costs $205,000.
It cost the city $205,000, or 7.2 per cent of the total budget, to care this year for the general department of health and sanitation. Of this amount $205,000, or 5.5 per cent, went to the Street Cleaning Department and $100,000, or 1.5 per cent, to the Board of Health.

The general government, which includes the salaries of clerks and officers in the tax-collecting and accounting departments, as well as the salaries of judges and jurors and the upkeep of courts, cost $214,625.82, or 6.03 per cent of the whole budget appropriation. The salaries of the officers and men in the departments listed as municipal enterprises are not included in this item.

Charities and corrections, embracing the hospitals operated by the city wholly, or in part, took $22,749, or .52 per cent of the total appropriation for 1914. The Building Department cost $66,560, or 1.9 per cent of the revenues. All the other expenditures of the city are grouped by Mr. Coffer under the head "Miscellaneous," which represented this year only .03 per cent of the budget.

TRIP TO EUROPE IS PLANNED

Will Be of Short Duration, However, as Treasury Department Business
Requires Attention of Cabinet Officer.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, May 3.—President Wilson spent part of today at the executive offices going over late dispatches from Mexico. Church was awakened, and the President and Mrs. Wilson motored through the country with Secretary McAdoo, Miss Eleanor Wilson and Miss Margaret Wilson. Secretary McAdoo returned to the White House for dinner with the President and his family, and remained throughout the evening.

Miss Wilson is wearing a magnificent string of pearls, the gift of Secretary McAdoo, but it is understood that these are not her bridal present. Mr. McAdoo is said to have selected a diamond and platinum chain, with an opal pendant, to be given his bride on her wedding day.

Other gifts he has made Miss Wilson are her engagement ring, a large princess diamond surrounded by ten small diamonds, an announcement ring of one large opal surrounded by diamonds, and a diamond and platinum bracelet. After their marriage on Thursday Secretary McAdoo and his bride will go direct to New York, and will endeavor for Europe the next day. They will only pay a hasty visit, however, as Treasury Department business will prevent Secretary McAdoo from being absent for any length of time.

Cottage for Summer Home.
A gray stone cottage, with wide, rambling porches and towers at Chevy Chase has been selected as the home of the future bride and groom during the summer. A pretentious home, with ballroom and other facilities for entertaining, is under consideration for a winter residence here, and it is expected that Mr. and the future Mrs. McAdoo's fondness for dancing will place them in the lead of Cabinet hosts.

Members of the diplomatic corps, although they are not invited to the wedding, will in a number of cases send flowers to Miss Wilson on her wedding day.

The younger set will be conspicuous by its absence at the ceremony, for only Misses Nona and Sallie McAdoo; the two daughters of Postmaster General Burleson, the two daughters of Secretary of Labor Wilson, Little Nancy Lane, the young daughter of Joseph Wilson; William Gibbs McAdoo, Jr., and John McAdoo are invited.

The wedding gown, which was designed by Mrs. Wilson, is extremely beautiful. It is of soft, creamy white lace, has an underskirt, upper bodice and sleeves, a rare duchesse lace. Tulle drapery gives an added softness to the lines. The train is extremely long, and is cut square. The skirt is loosely draped about the hips and caught back at the feet by three orange blossoms. Orange blossoms will be arranged in a band to hold the veil about the throat.

In the trousseau are eight evening gowns, seven "tango" gowns, two cloth suits, five tulle coat suits, four tulle street dresses, one dozen linen and crepe warm evening dresses, six white skirts and silk waists for tennis and outdoor sports, nineteen hats, twelve pairs of shoes and seven parasols.

Refugees from Border.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Bristol, Va., May 3.—Mrs. W. A. Brand and Mrs. Helen Fielder, refugees from the Mexican border, are visitors here. They came from Ysleta, Texas, where the situation looked threatening. They will remain in this section until conditions look more promising along the border. Mrs. Brand is the wife of an interpreter for this government in Mexico. She and Miss Fielder are nieces of J. L. Davis, a Bristol attorney.

MOTOR CAR OWNERS PAY
$69,700 TO ROAD FUNDTax on Automobiles for First Quarter

WANTS FUND FOR MAINTENANCE

State Highway Commissioner Coleman
Says Money Should Be Used to Maintain Roads Already Built.

State Highway Commissioner Coleman announced yesterday that the State received during the first three months of 1914 from the license tax on motor vehicles a total revenue of $69,700, which is within $10,000 of as much as was received from this source of revenue during the whole of 1913. It is estimated by Commissioner Coleman that the tax will yield between $95,000 and $100,000 in 1914, as against $80,000 in 1913.

The automobile license tax is collected by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and turned over by him to State Auditor C. Lee Moore, to be drawn upon by Commissioner Coleman for the construction of new roads in Virginia. Secretary James renders a monthly account to Commissioner Coleman of the receipts from this source.

Because of a peculiar accident between the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the factory which manufactures the license tags, Chief Clerk J. M. Hayes, Jr., has already issued license tag No. 10,000, whereas there are not that many licensed motor cars in the State by at least 1,500. The loss of 1,500 numbered tags between No. 5,000 and No. 10,000 causes the unusual situation.

Wants Improvement Fund.
Although the State law provides that the revenue from the license tax on motor cars be placed in the hands of the State Highway Commissioner to be used in the building of new roads, Commissioner Coleman does not feel that this is the ideal disposition to make of this revenue. Like all men who have made a study of road building, Commissioner Coleman believes that the maintenance of roads after they have once been constructed is of as vital importance as the construction of new highways.

Commissioner Coleman is working with all his power to mold sentiment in favor of his proposal to have the revenue from the automobile license tax set aside for exclusive use for the maintenance of roads. He would like to see the General Assembly provide that this tax be distributed among the various counties in the State on the basis of the revenue derived from the license tax. The State, each county adding to its proportion of the license tax an equal appropriation of county funds, the resulting amounts to be spent on the up-keep of macadam, gravel and clay roads in the county.

METHODISTS GATHERING
FOR THEIR CONFERENCEInterest Centres Chiefly in Action to Be Taken With Regard to Vanderbilt University.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 3.—More than 2,000 ministers and laymen are expected to attend the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which will convene at the University of Oklahoma on Wednesday, May 28.

While a number of matters of importance are to be discussed before the conference, the lawmaking body of the church, interest centres chiefly in the action to be taken with regard to Vanderbilt University, which the Supreme Court of Tennessee has held not to be the property of or under the jurisdiction of the church.

Whether a new college will be built or some existing school selected as the representative educational institution of the church will be threshed out first before the educational committee, and later before the conference as a whole. The question of equal suffrage for women, and whether or not women should be determined by the conference. At present bishops are permitted to choose their own place of residence.

Men prominent in church affairs declare it is not probable that any new bishops will be selected this year. Seven bishops were elected at the last quadrennial conference. Secretaries and general officers of the church board, however, will be elected. The bishops of the church, in the order of their seniority in the episcopacy, will preside over the sessions of the conference.

CRIPPLED MENDICANT IS AIDED BY CRIPPLE

Ninth Street, favorite haunt of blind and crippled mendicants, and often of professional alms seekers, was the scene Saturday afternoon of what an observant police officer said was the sincerest act of charity he had seen in all his long experience. Under an unwritten law, several of the blind, the halt and the lame are permitted to solicit alms at certain points on Ninth Street, and for some time a one-legged man has been occupying one of these select places and soliciting alms from a generous public.

As he sat, with his face turned toward the sun, on the east side of the street, late Saturday afternoon another one-legged man came feebly up the street towards him. Each recognized the other as a fellow in misfortune, and the man seated on the ground, gestured for the newcomer to sit beside him. His little tin cup rattled to only a few cent pieces, but he placed it down beside him as the other approached. The new arrival hesitated a moment, and then stopped. They chatted together a few minutes, and then the second man passed on.

As he passed, he leaned down from his crutch and dropped a nickel into the other's tin cup. It was simply done, and only an officer and a citizen standing on the other side of the street noticed the act. The man on the ground smiled his thanks, and the other cripple went on without looking back.

"That," said the police officer, "is the finest piece of charity I have ever seen."

Health Teacher--Quaker--Tragle's

Three Names That Have Been Adopted by People of Richmond.

Health Teacher, Quaker and Tragle's are three names that are on the tongues of more people these days than any other three names in the history of the city. And why? Because the results derived from the use of the grand old Quaker Remedies in this city are becoming greater and greater each day.

The name Health Teacher, because it stands for the man who has made the study of the Quakers and their medicines a life study, and who realizes, after years of experience, that he has in the Quaker Herb Remedies a line of medicines that have never had any equal in the permanent curing of catarrh.

The name Quaker, because it brings to mind the remedies being introduced in this city, and have to their credit a list of over 300 cures in this country and the surrounding territory, besides the hundreds of reports made by people who are still using the remedies for chronic cases, and who have been deriving great results, although not yet completely cured. These remedies are composed of 16 native herbs, roots, barks, berries, leaves, gums and blossoms, and are guaranteed by the government to contain no opiates or chemicals of any kind whatever. If you have not yet tried them in your case, you are surely missing a grand opportunity of getting rid of the cause of your trouble.

The name Tragle's, because it reminds us of the firm of druggists whose store has been the headquarters of the

OLD MONUMENTAL CHURCH
TO HOLD ITS CENTENNIALGrandson of Dedicator Preacher to Deliver Anniversary Address
To-Night.

One hundred years ago to-day the doors of Monumental Episcopal Church were thrown open to the public. In commemoration of that occasion the church will, at 8:15 o'clock to-night, hold appropriate exercises, the outstanding feature of which will be a sermon by Rev. Cary Breckenridge Wilmer, D. D., rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Atlanta.

The sermon preached by Dr. Wilmer on May 4, 1814, still extant and is treasured as one of the historic documents of the church. He was a distinguished divine and became later one of the founders of the Virginia Theological Seminary. The coming of his grandson, likewise a distinguished churchman, to honor the occasion with an address, will contribute an added interest to to-night's exercises. Special invitations have been issued to the Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the Mayor of Richmond. The members of the congregation, the contributors to the endowment fund of the church and the descendants of original pewholders, as far as these can be ascertained, will be given reserved seats, and the remaining seats will be open to take care of the general public.

The Monumental Church choir of fifty trained voices will give a special musical program consisting of anthems and hymns appropriate to the occasion. The exercises will begin sharply at 8:15 o'clock.

MEXICANS KEEP WATCH
ON AMERICAN OUTPOSTS

Washington, May 3.—Dispatches from Brigadier-General Funston on the situation at Vera Cruz were the subject of a long conference at the War Department to-night between Secretary Garrison and Major-General Wetherston, chief of staff of the army.

It was said General Funston had asked for instructions in view of the hostile attitude of the Mexican army near the city. Earlier in the day the general had reported that the American outposts at Vera Cruz were being watched by Mexicans, and there were more than 10,000 Mexican troops encamped in the vicinity. These dispatches were summed by Secretary Garrison in this statement:

"I am in receipt to-day of a dispatch from General Funston, regarding the incident at the pumping plant. He says the officer in command of the Mexican troops was Major Zapota, of the engineer corps of the Mexican army. He refers to the fact that little dependable news about conditions in the interior is coming in, because no more refugees are now coming into Vera Cruz."

"It is reported to him that General Mans has about 4,000 men at Soledad, and there are an unknown number not large, watching our lines."

NEED LAW TO REGULATE
DANCE HALLS IN CITYMajor Werner Will Probably Ask That Recommendation Be Made to Council for New Ordinance.

With the number of dance halls increasing, the police expect shortly to take steps to induce the City Council to pass an ordinance regulating them. Discussing the matter last night, Chief of Police Werner said that there are no existing laws designed to regulate a place of amusement of this character. He intimated that at the next meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners he would probably bring up the matter, with the suggestion that an ordinance be drafted and presented to the Council with a recommendation that it be passed.

"I want it clearly understood," Major Werner said, "that I am not an enemy of dancing. In my younger days it was a pastime I was very fond of, and I still like to see young people enjoying themselves in this manner. I have no idea of inaugurating a crusade against the tango, nor have I the right to interfere with dancing academies."

"My aim is to protect the public from any resort which may in the least be considered disorderly. I have been told that several public dancing halls are about to be opened. Admission will be charged, and they will be open to all who have the price. It is in regard to places of this sort that I would like to have authority to see that they are conducted in a proper manner."
